

BE RICH & KIND TO PLANTS CONVERT TOXIC OIL TO CO<sub>2</sub>

The economy is collapsing and the answer the government proposes is a conference to restrict energy use and increase the cost of energy. If there are still any entrepreneurs thinking about new products and industry, what better way to stop them in their tracks? Energy is an indispensable component in the creation of wealth. Any restriction on the use of energy restricts the creation of wealth and the jobs and general prosperity that accompanies the creation of wealth.

Do you suppose the aspiring "KING" and his "PEERS" (those who are trying to return us to the glory days of KING GEORGE III) are oblivious to that fact? HARDLY! Yet they continue to propose taxes and restrictions on energy that can only destroy what is left of the economy. As if this isn't enough, the "PEERS" are threatening to assume control of private enterprise to ensure that the producer is even more limited in the portion of his productivity than can be retained by the producer.

Would anyone with the intelligence to produce great wealth start a new enterprise under these conditions? Of course, the answer is NO. The only source of new jobs in this controlled economy will be bureaucrats, necessary to control the few surviving producers. Since those producers objective is to produce wealth and earn a profit, the purpose of the bureaucrats has to be inhibiting production and redistributing the wealth produced in spite of the bureaucrat's effort.

There can be no recovery from this economic disaster until the threats of restrictions on the production and use of energy are removed along with the threats of increased government oversight (containment) of the producers.

Despite spending billions of dollars to prove that CO<sub>2</sub> causes detrimental climate change, no proof exists. The only proof that the predicted increase of CO<sub>2</sub> is the cause of climate change is predictions of disaster if the theory is correct. Yet, the aspiring "KING" and "PEERS" are willing to destroy the economy and you and your children's wealth to combat a "FAIRY TALE" with no basis in fact.

They preach "alternative energy" with all the fervor of a Nineteenth Century charlatan selling "perpetual motion". The charlatan knew he was a fraud. The "alternative energy advocates" may believe their pitch or they may just be ignorant. It makes no difference, it is your wealth they are squandering. They may believe their pitch or just be frauds the results will be the same. At least, with the Nineteenth Century charlatan you had a choice. The "alternative energy advocates" are using the full force of the government to force your compliance.

What will be the "KINGS" and "PEERS" next attack on your wealth? Government funded research in alchemy comes to mind. It would be a way to provide gold backing for all the dollars they are printing and makes as much sense as "alternative energy."

Can there be any doubt that the "KING" and "PEERS" know that their constituency consist of unfortunate poverty stricken wretches and that destruction of prosperity increases the ranks of their constituency?

Are you willing to be the first generation since the Victory at Yorktown to leave your children worse off than you were?
